PUBLISHED BY THE STUDENTS OF W. B. RAY, CORPUS CHRISTI, TEXAS

THE

1960 SILVER SPUR PRESENTS

BY THE SEA

In our city by the sea we live and work. Our lives are filled with many lifelong memories that would not be, except for the sea. In our lives we take the sea for granted. The sea provides a place to work, a place to play, and a place of beauty. Because of the sea and its many wonders, we, the staff of the 1960 SILVER SPUR, present "By The Sea" as our theme.

Brought into existence
many years ago my fate was to serve you

You built your homes along my banks and created for yourself a place of beauty

I gave recreation and pleasure to you and added to your fun in various ways

I have brought forth industries, a place to work

It is this building that has in the past year been our place by the sea. It is also in this structure that we prepare to undertake the responsibilities of leadership in later years.

DEDICATION

The Silver Spur dedicates the 1960 edition to the memory of Mrs. Marie Power Westervelt and David Beatty.

An apt description of Mrs. Westervelt would say she had a lady-like air of elegance characteristic of the last century combined with a modern spirit of independence. Although her classes were conducted with firmness and objectivity, students sensed they were a part of her "family." Only the insensitive failed to understand that her sharpest admonishments were given with genuine, motherly concern. She used to say that some students come to a teacher with a bushel basket to fill; others, with only a thimble; but the teacher must fill them both. Travel, her passion, ranged from school trips to European tours, the enjoyment of which she shared with all who were interested. In her dedication to her work, in her enjoyment of everything beautiful, is the clue to her secret of living a full life.

Though fullness of life is usually associated with the number of one's years, who is to say that quality did not make David's also full? He came to terms with whatever life brought him. The amputation of his leg in an effort to arrest a malignancy might have altered the personality of a less mature person, but David accepted it and thus helped those around him to grow a little. Responsible, thoughtful, and sturdy, he pursued a broad path of interests. The young people in his church recognized his dependable, practical nature by electing him President of the Senior Methodist Youth Fellowship. Earning all the highest scout awards, mastering an artificial leg—this took determination, the kind of determination which made him continue to march in the Texan band. And now in our memories, this manly spirit in a boy's body marches on.

A TEACHER'S DAY

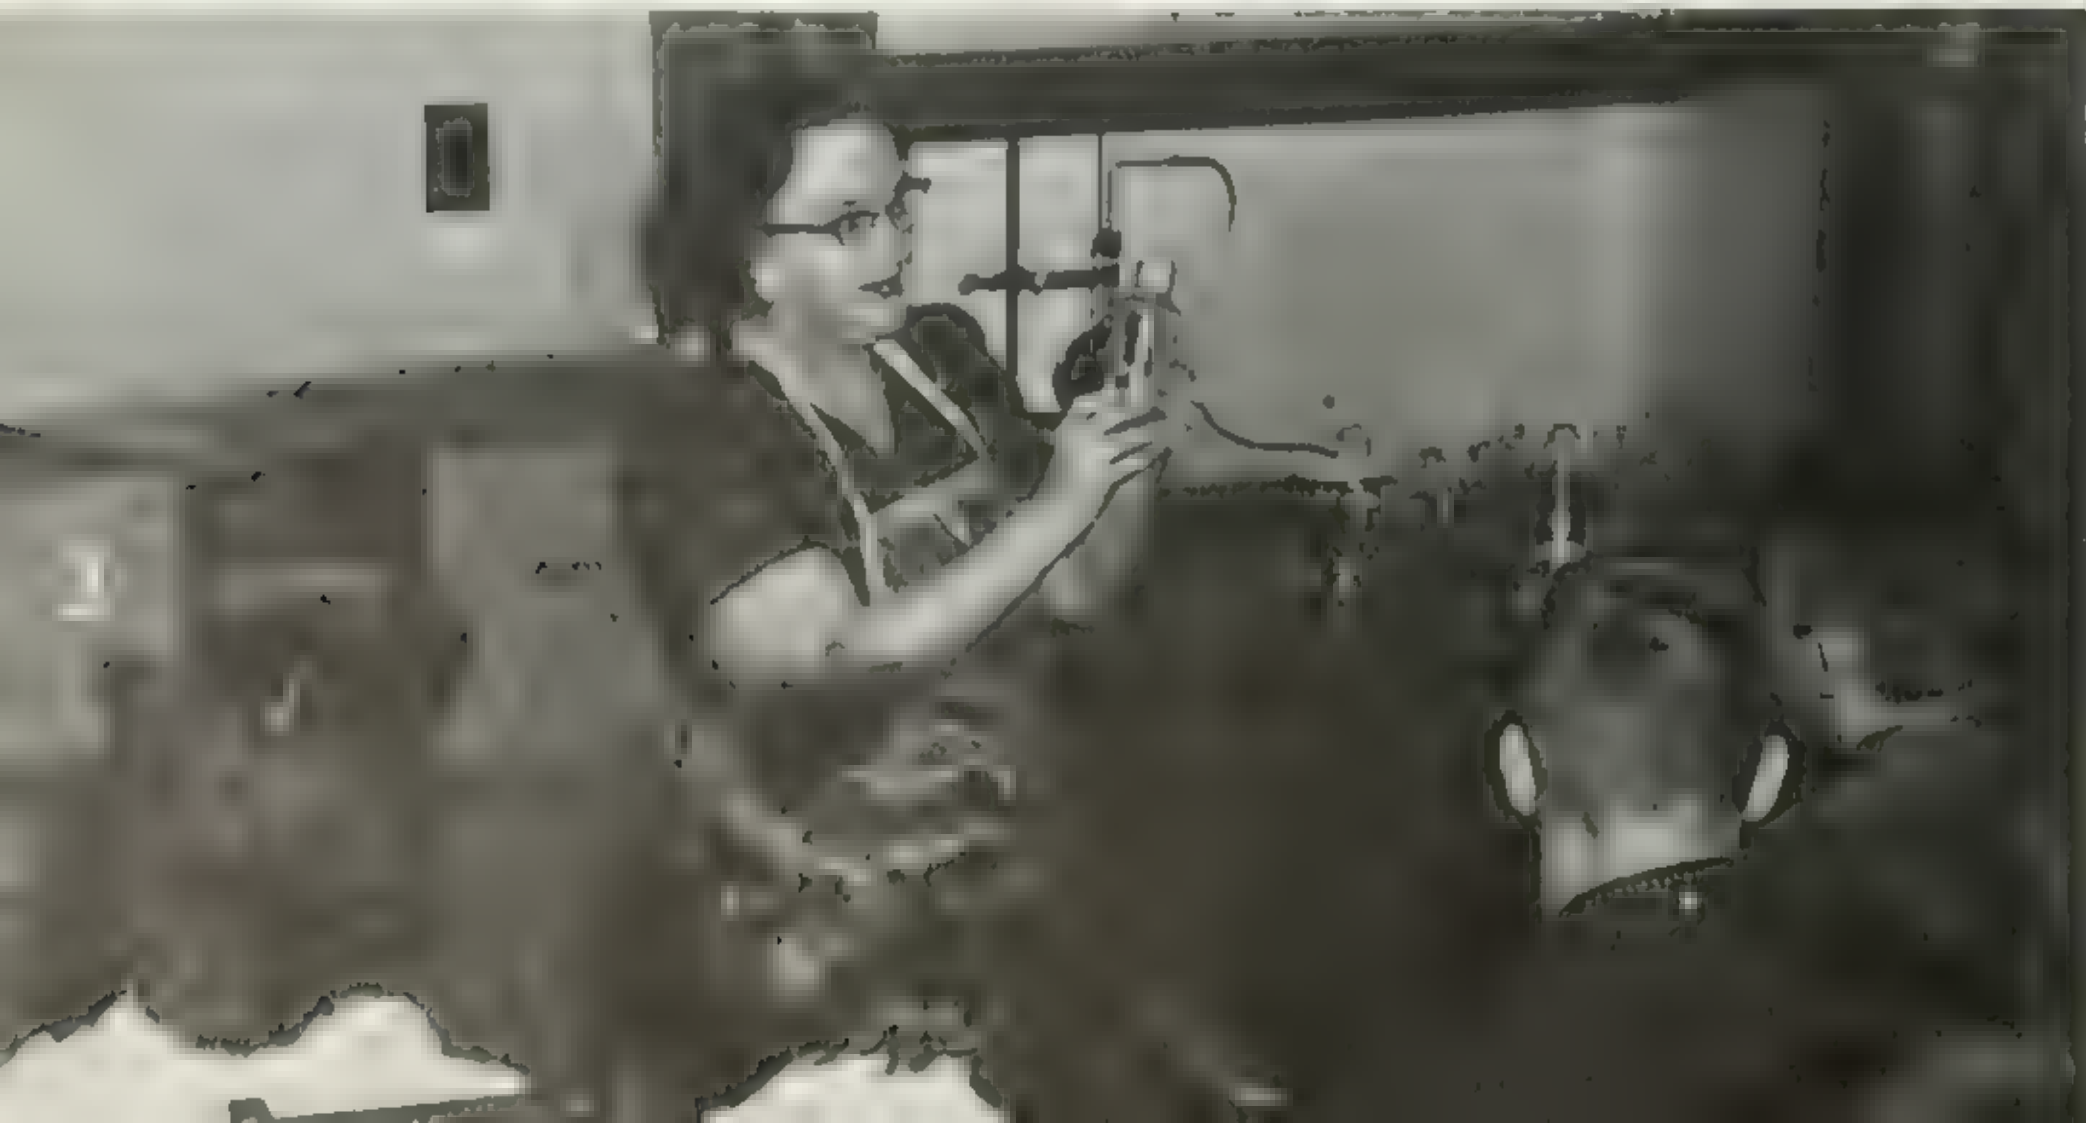

The Silver Spur devotes this section to those teachers who have dedicated and consecrated their lives to education by imparting their knowledge and experience to the innumerable students who have attended W. B. Ray High School the past ten years of its existence. Though the number of teachers is far too great for individual recognition, this pictorial interpretation attempts to portray a normal day in a teacher's life. The colorful personality and charming cooperative manner of Miss Aletha Alice Agnew, who has taught in the Corpus Christi School System longer than any teacher at Ray, were the deciding factors in honoring her in this symbolic illustration.

Miss Aletha Alice Agnew, teacher, smiling and checking her notes.

Students look forward to Miss Agnew's orthographic and phonetic lessons.

The students of the Silver Spur look forward to her interesting and informative lessons on the history of the United States and the world.

One of a teacher's duties is helping the individual student. This is an important part of every teacher's school day.

Miss Agnew always finds time in her busy schedule to discuss her class problems with Mr. Cooper

Grading papers is one of the endless tasks that every teacher faces after the bell rings out at school

ASSISTANTS

The students and faculty of Ray owe much to the invaluable services performed by the students in the guidance and registrar offices. These offices could never be run as efficiently as they are without the assistance of students who sacrifice one period a day. Their jobs are among the most important to the school.

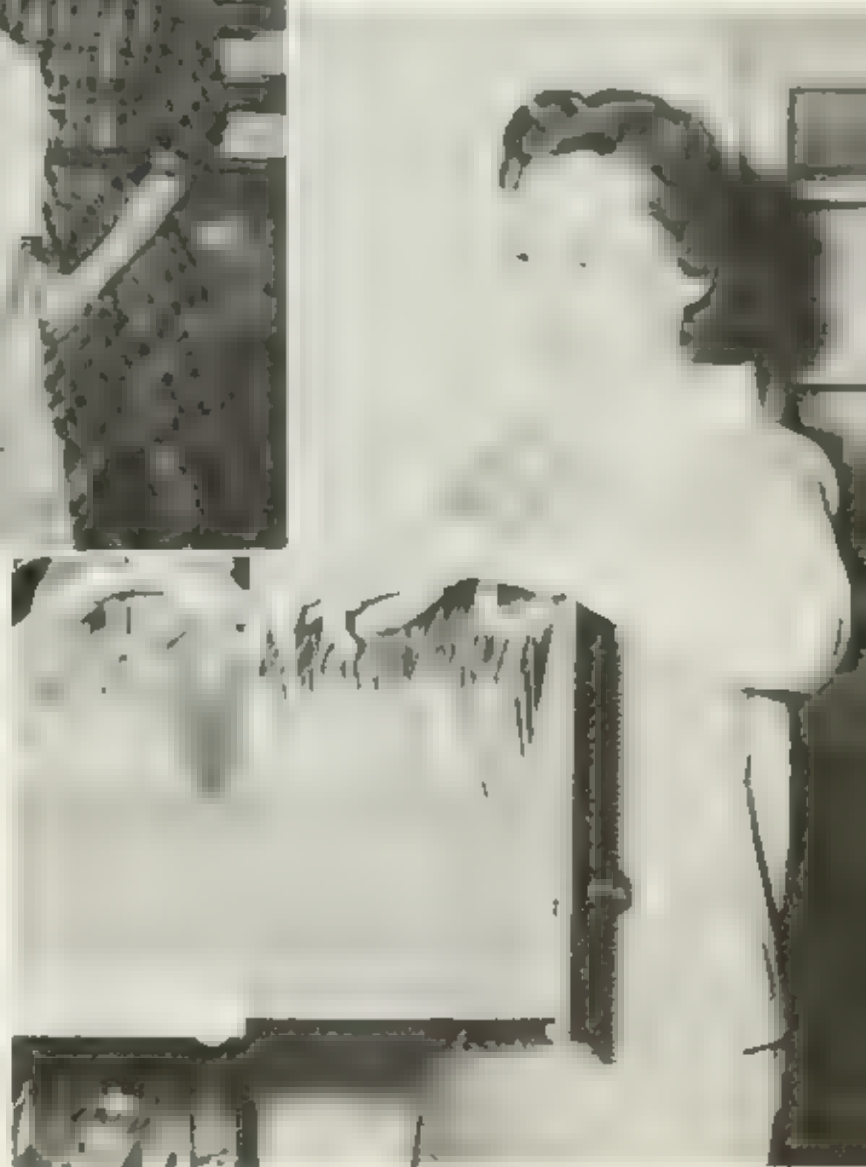

First row: Mrs. Sandis, Joan Dugger, Shirley Stanton
Second row: Renett McMinn, Charlotte Richmond, Kay Smith, Connie Basden, Elaine Daley, Judy Wagner, Ann Wetzel

First row: Janet Coker, Susie Cates, Mrs. Dugger, Carolyn Hayes, Pat Frazier, Nancy E. Taylor
Second row: Diana Davis, Mary Rose Shaw, Carolyn Jones, Agnes Phillips, Anne Sherwin, Claudia Hamilton, Anne Ursprung

For two years as secretary for the guidance department, Mrs. Dugger has been a valuable asset to Ray. In those two years she has become an enthusiastic supporter of W. B. Ray High School.

STUDENTS HELP

Running errands, keeping attendance records, ordering supplies, and answering the telephone are only a few of the many duties of Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Letts and their office workers. Without their assistance, the many functions of this school would virtually be brought to a standstill.

Mrs. Letts and her assistants carry on the many jobs of Mr. Henstee's office efficiently.

The offices in the school office are shared by Mrs. Thompson and her volunteer workers.

MRS. DOROTHY CARLSON
SECRETARY

Mrs. Maxwell, Mrs. Mulholland, Mrs. Ahern, and Mrs. Graham are shown discussing a P.T.A. matter

YOUTH OF TODAY--

LEADERS OF TOMORROW

As the world grows closer together through faster means of travel and communication, the importance of social studies becomes greater and greater. With the increasing problems of our world, this department provides knowledge of the causes of these problems and how some of them have been solved or may be solved. Social studies gives students a chance to think and speak freely on world situations.

ENGLISH: GATEWAY TO HIGHER KNOWLEDGE

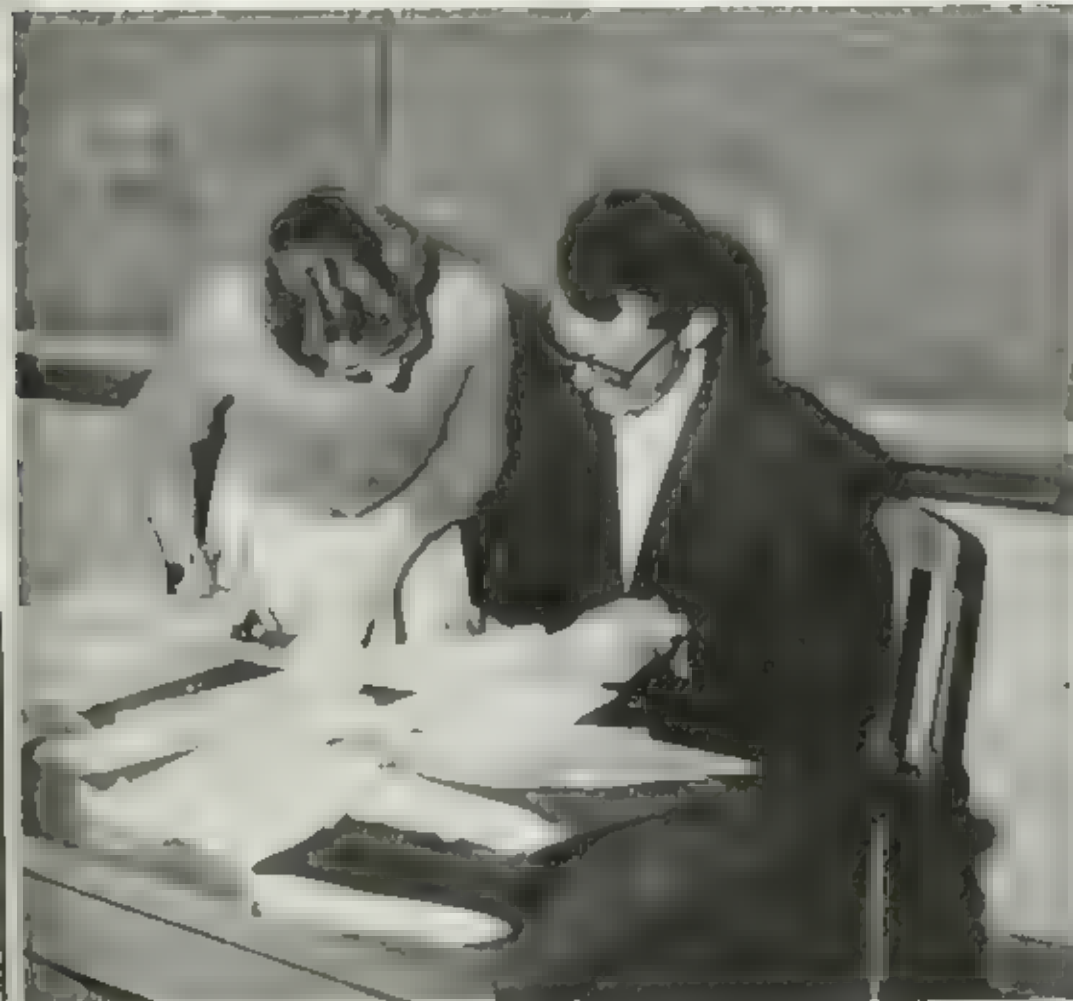

The English department prepares the student for higher knowledge in any field. The student is introduced to the contemporary and classical literary masterpieces. The study of grammar aims to furnish the student with the fundamental tools to communicate effectively. Even though English is the gateway to higher knowledge, the study of English is endless.

SCIENCE

To meet the growing demand for science courses biology, chemistry, physics and physiology are offered to students. As civilization progresses and modern living becomes more complex an increasing number of students are realizing the importance of these sciences.

George Killick and Edda Anderson prove that chemistry can be fun.

MATHEMATICS

Through various courses the mathematics department promotes logical thinking through reasoning and the practical application of mathematical principles. Classes in algebra, both plane and solid geometry, trigonometry, and commercial arithmetic offer Ray students the best possible opportunities in this increasingly important field

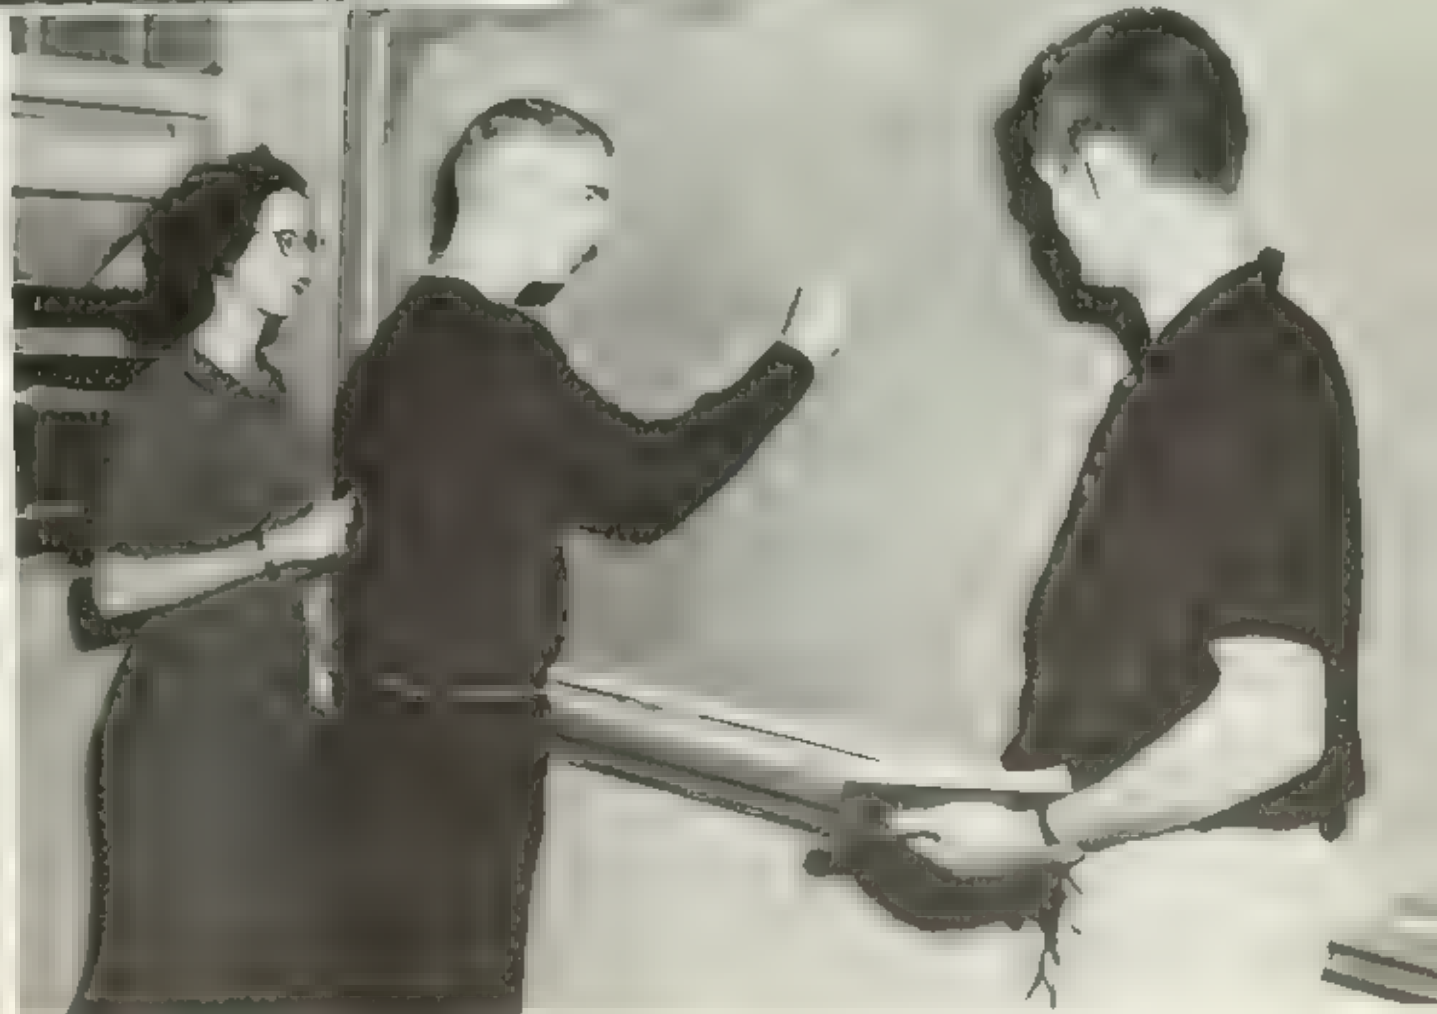

Students in Miss Hoots' sixth period geometry class listen carefully as their homework is explained

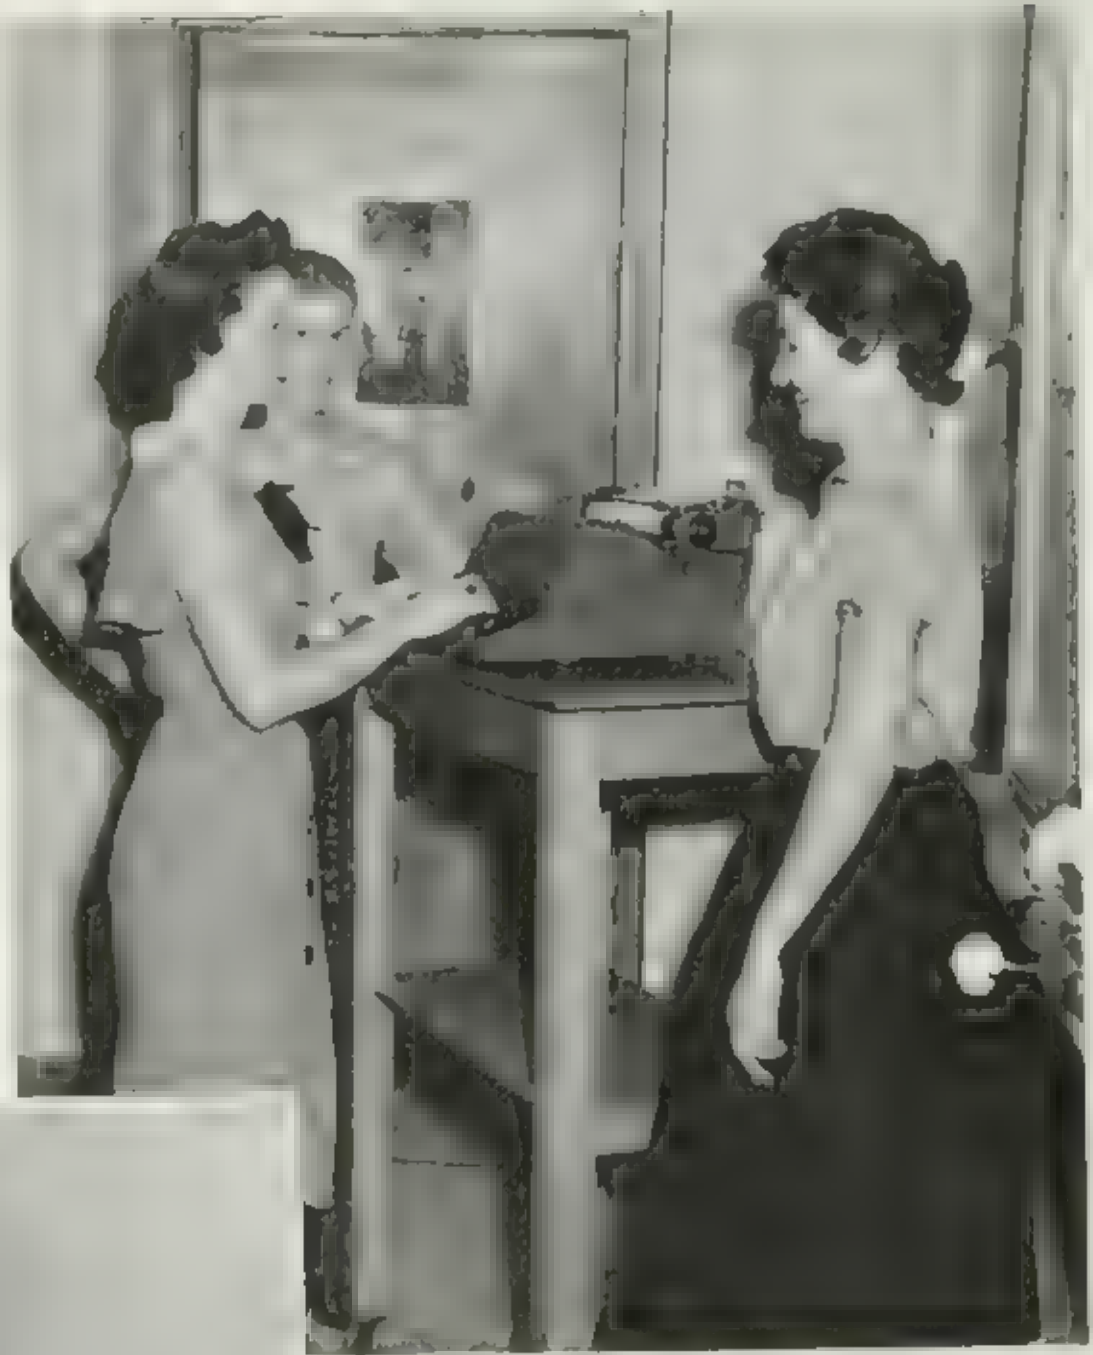

Collaborating on an algebra problem are Gloria Krabill and Linda Connell

Attempting to work a difficult trig problem dictated by Norman Ransleben, Martha Nes and Barry Hulsell also demonstrate the effectiveness of board work

THE CHANGING BUSINESS WORLD

The young people in school today find themselves in a changing world in which business has a definite influence. Students feel the need of instruction in typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, business law, commercial arithmetic, and secretarial training. The instructors of the Business Education Department help to prepare the students for their place in the business world.

IMPORTANT COURSES IN SMALL WORLD

In this day in which foreign countries are being drawn closer together, the ability to speak a foreign language has become most important. More jobs than ever are opening up in which a person with such an ability is preferred.

This year at Ray we have added a new language course, German, to the three already taught, giving Ray the largest number of foreign languages taught in any Corpus Christi high school. It goes without saying that everyone is very proud of this important department.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Industrial Arts is an exploratory course in which each pupil learns by doing. In this course the student is inspired to use his creativeness on individual projects. He also develops his skill in the design and construction of many useful articles.

The purpose of Distributive Education is to promote further interest of students in the career field of retailing. Industrial Cooperative Training increases the students' skill in the mechanical and industrial fields. In this course the students print school publications.

These courses are taken by students who are interested in going directly into a profession after graduation or who wish to receive early training in various professions. These students spend part of every school day in regular classes and then go to their different jobs to receive training.

ART

The first year of Art is designed to familiarize the student with the variety of art media and expression by experimentation and exploration of materials and techniques. The advanced student concentrates on techniques in chosen areas with more complex problems. This program, under the direction of J. A. Cain, not only teaches, but also attempts to develop an appreciation of art throughout history.

Mr. Cain is teaching the techniques of block printing to Howard and Andy Ayers.

Artists work on their own projects as Silver Hooper and Linda West.

DRIVER EDUCATION

BOOKSTORE

The bookstore, under the direction of Mrs. Thompson, becomes a very useful and important part of our school when one needs supplies. Special books ordered by teachers are also sold here. Students volunteer their services in the bookstore before school and during fourth period.

Students are given books for using by Mrs. O'Neal and Mr. [unclear].

BOOKROOM

Mrs. Florine O'Neal, who works in the bookroom, has one of the biggest jobs at Ray. She distributes some 13,000 books to teachers each semester. In addition to this, she handles the records of all lost books and keeps track of money paid for new ones.

VISUAL AIDS

Many teachers at Ray use films as an aid in presenting additional material to promote understanding in their classes. The visual aids workers not only show these films, but they are also responsible for the tape recorders and the record players. These students are under the able guidance of Mrs. Justin.

A sick student has his temperature taken by Mrs. Hood.

The clinic is agreed by all to be a most important part of our school. Clinic workers, voluntarily giving up a period each day, help students with everything from headaches to broken bones. Most of the helpers are members of the Future Nurses Club. Mrs. Hood, the school nurse, supervises these girls in their work.

CLINIC WORKERS

Clinic helpers are appreciated by teachers and students alike for the services they perform.

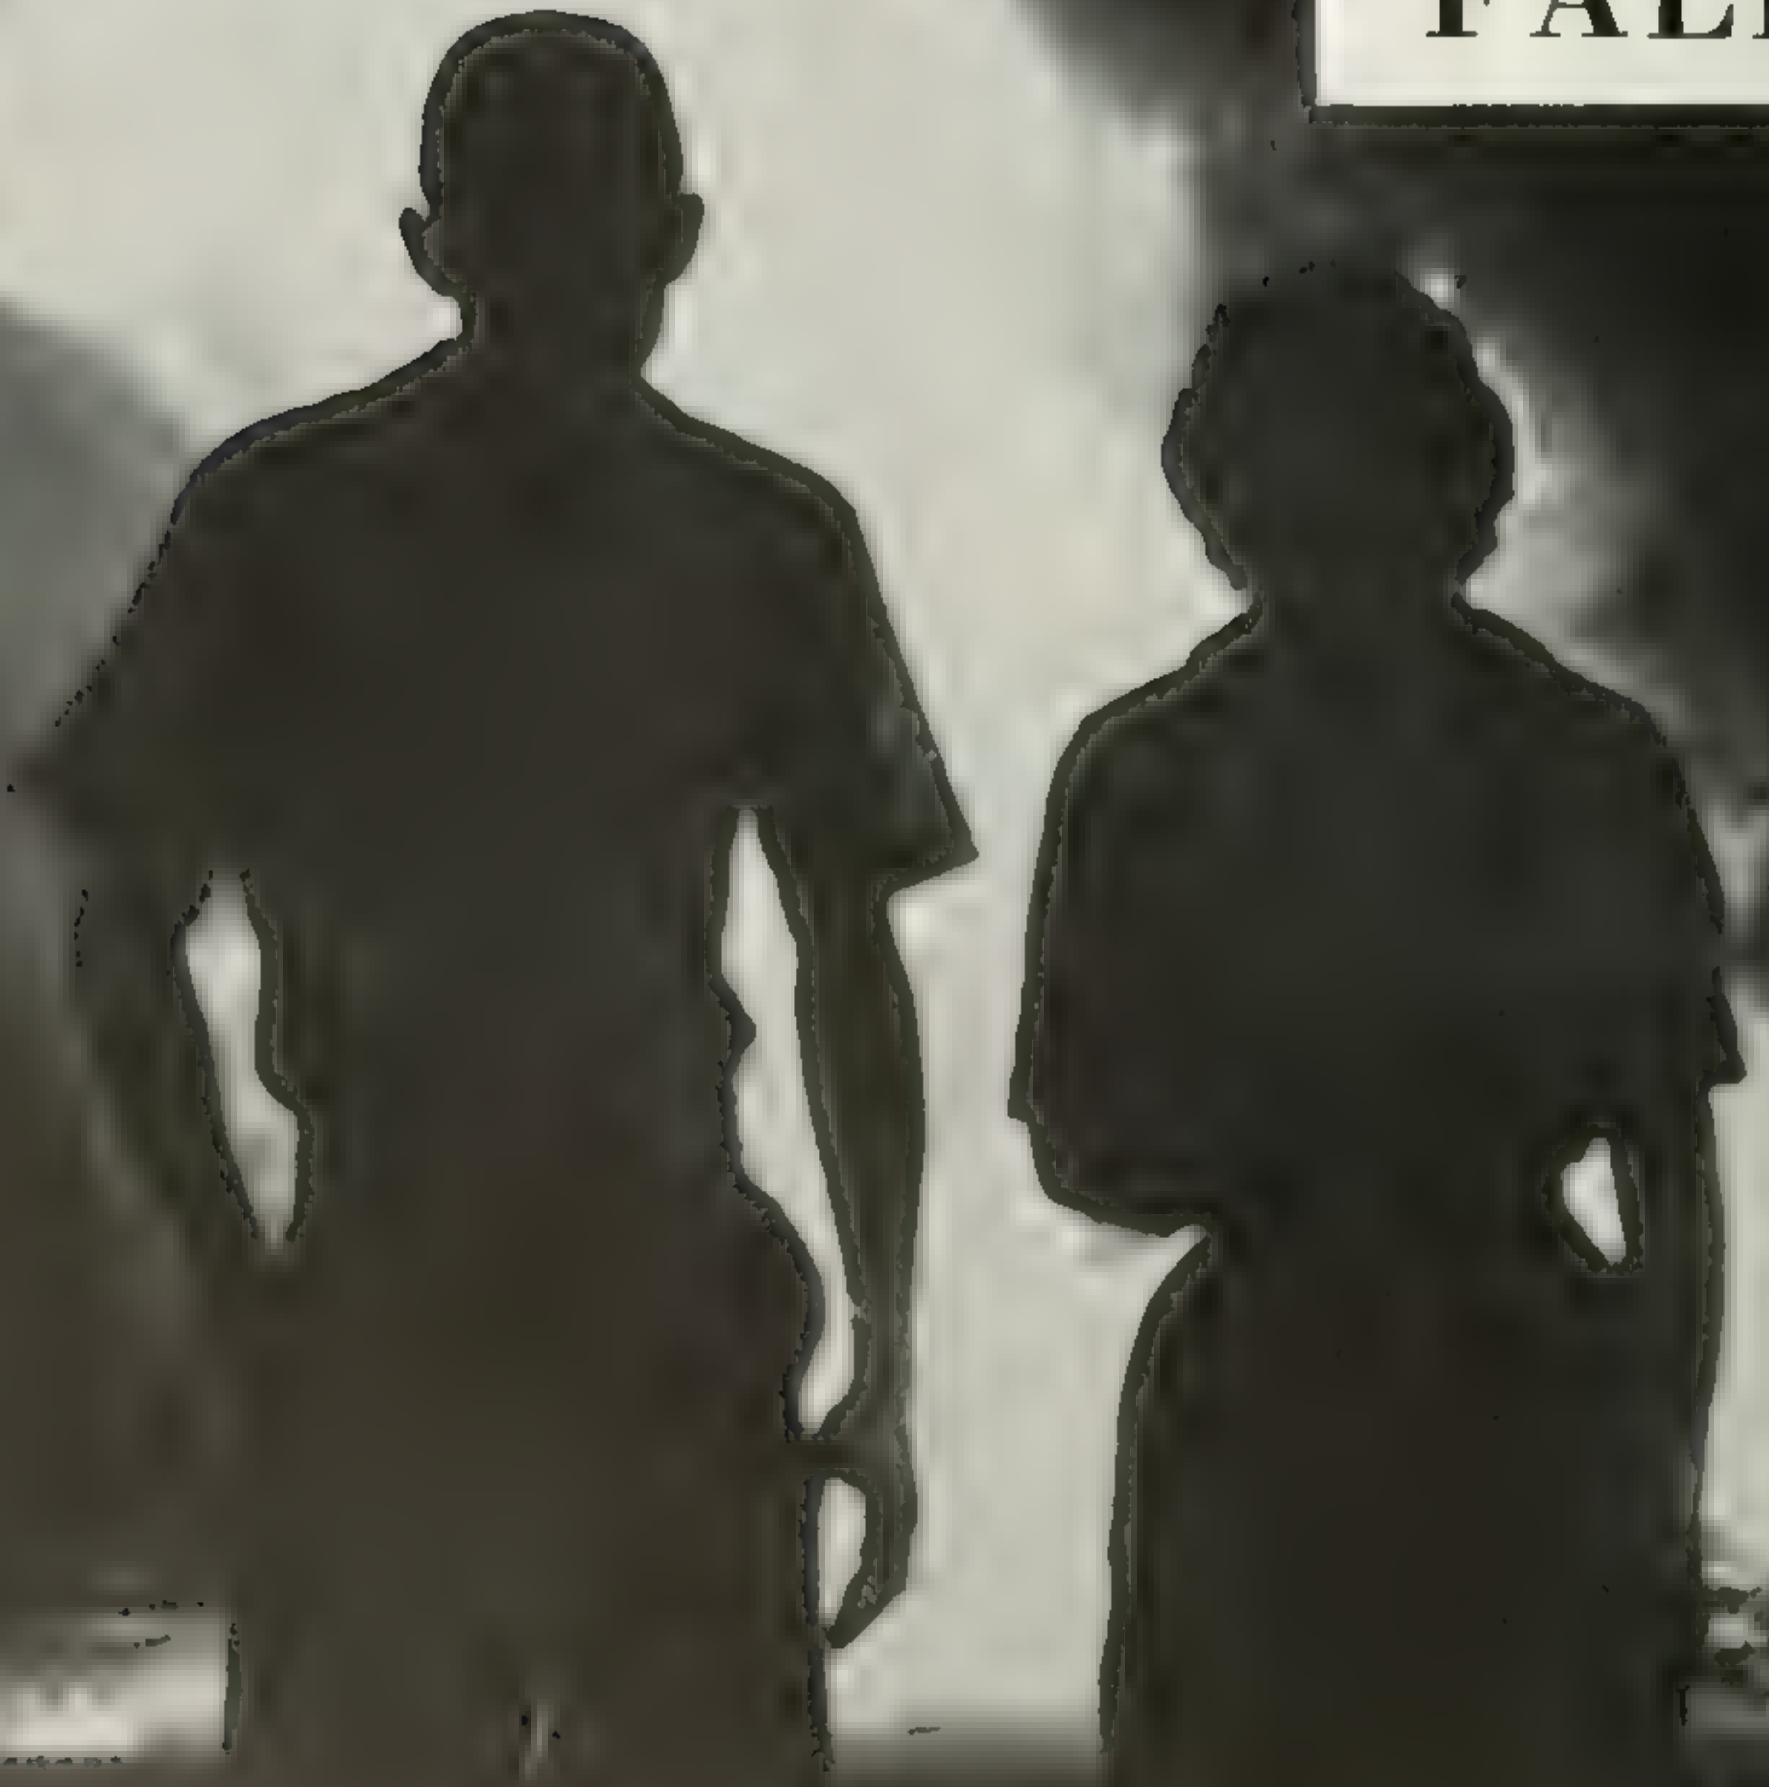

SEASONS

FALL

Fall is the birth of a new school year which hosts a number of new, traditional, and competitive events. During the first few days students filled out forms, bought car stickers, and sophomores got over that "lost" feeling. After the initial business was finished students settled down to the routine of classes. Nevertheless, life was far from dull, for the days were broken by pep rallies, football games, taking of school pictures, and the P.T.A. Open House. The S.A.S.C. Convention as well as the opening of the Corpus Christi Harbor Bridge were major events this fall. Still, nothing in the entire season equalled the enthusiasm before and the rejoicing after the Ray-Miller football game.

WINTER

The most outstanding event of the winter season was Ray's winning the state championship in football. This caused great rejoicing. Christmas traditions that we carried out again this year were the band election of its king and queen, the selling of Christmas trees by the band, and the choirs' singing of Christmas carols in the halls. A few short weeks after the holidays ended, came mid-term exams and registration, which kept everyone busy. Basketball held the spotlight in sports. N F L. members sold candy, seniors ordered graduation invitations, and assemblies were held. Another big event was the Favorites Dance in February. As a result of these and other events, this winter will be remembered by all.

SPRING

Busy, busy, busy—this is the most apt description of spring, the most active time of the year. Fair weather brings many tournaments and contests, ranging from tennis to bowling and from the Spring Festival to the Interscholastic League contest. The selection of the Senior Prom theme, the scads of Senior parties, and measuring for caps and gowns serve to increase the anticipation of graduation. The many honors awarded to deserving students by the school and civic organizations make the past years of developing their minds and physical abilities worth while. This lively second semester encounters the juniors and sophomores filing applications to run in Student Council and cheerleading elections and pre-registering for next year's classes, while seniors send off college entrance applications and choose special prom dresses or contemporary treasured graduation presents.

In this end-of-school-year-flurry, students begin to reflect on the progress made during the past year. They suddenly become restless and impatient for the freedom of summer, only to look forward to another year of excitement and accomplishment.

With the ball on the 40-yard line, Derden found House in the clear. House caught the pass, lost the Coyote pursuers, and ran across the end zone for a touchdown. The final touchdown came when Williams ended up on the second section of a double reverse and then lateralled to Derden who ran 73 yards for the score.

This was the 14th Ray victory for the season. Coach Stage was quoted as saying "One of the best football teams the state has ever seen."

BASKETBALL

Ray's Cagers, under the able coaching of Hank Crawford, closed out the 1959-60 season with a disappointing (8-11) record. Although the Cagers displayed a fine team in Buddy Greenwood, Wayne Sanders, Steve Williams, Roger White, and Buddy Claybrook they couldn't overcome the "Hard Luck" bug that plagued them throughout the season.

As usual the Cagers displayed good sportsmanship and all-round team effort which made up for the deficit in their scores.

GIRLS' and BOYS' TENNIS

The Tennis Team, which meets sixth period, is composed of advanced students. To determine their place in the competition or their place on the ladder, they challenge various students to matches; if the challenger wins, he may possibly raise his own position. The students who attended the four tournaments during this year were chosen by their position on the ladder. The students practice one hour a day on specialty shots such as lobs, volleys, forehand and backhand drives, and serves. After school many students spend extra hours practicing at South Bluff Park. Their grades are determined on the basis of their third and sixth weeks tests plus their participation and attitude.

Ray's new tennis instructor, Miss Freeman, excelled in tennis as a student at Ray several years ago. Continuing her pursuit of tennis at Del Mar College for two years, she spent her last two years at the University of Texas where she majored in biology and chemistry. Under her supervision the Tennis Team will continue to grow in skill and interest and this sport will be encouraged to new heights.

Golf, a highly competitive sport, requires much skill and constant practice. The boys' golf team boasts four lettermen from last year: Raymond Haas, Rick Rogers, Joe Kelhor, and Russell Moody, plus twelve other members. They have been practicing since September for five tournaments this spring; one of which was the Corpus Christi Invitational. Coach Jim Rich has conducted both ladder tournaments and inter-squad matches to build up competitive spirit and confidence on the golf course.

Bay is one of the few high schools in Texas which offers girls' golf. There are two classes, an advanced class for girls who have had one year of golf and a beginner class. Besides receiving basic instruction in the proper stance, swing, and grip, the girls are also required to learn the official rules of procedure, courtesy, and scoring. Although there is no girls' golf team, the girls compete with each other in medal tournaments set up by their coach, Mr. Frank Kennett.

BASEBALL

The Texas baseball team, coached by Mr. A. J. Luquette, produced a fine record during the 1959 season, capturing the District Crown and going on to the State play-off.

As the State play-off began, the Texas team started their 1960 season with a 2-2-1 record. The team's record was 2-2-1, with two wins, two losses, and one tie. The team's record was 2-2-1, with two wins, two losses, and one tie.

CROSS COUNTRY TRACK

Cross-Country Track is a first semester sport which is under the direction of Coach McCord. The season was ended by their participation in the Sixth Texas High School Cross-Country Championship Meet on December 5th. This meet was held at the Hancock Golf Course in Austin, Texas. Severo Balboa received a medal for ninth place. Other participants were Tony Horrel, Herb Campbell, Gary Gill, and Roland Volk, who all helped to make this a most successful season for Ray.

Mr. McCord labels a track man

The 1960 Cinder Texans, coached by Mr. Allen McCord and Mr. Gene Van Cleave, boast of point makers in both field and running events. At the Border Olympics, Ray gained 9 points. The Texans took command of the eleventh annual Hub City Relays and captured the title for the third straight year with a whopping 61-15 points. The Cinders show much ability and this will prove to be a banner year for Ray.

GIRLS' PHYSICAL EDUCATION

In Physical Education classes girls are required not only to develop their skill but also to learn the history and rules of sports. For a period of six weeks each year the girls study health or first-aid. These studies help each girl learn to care for her physical needs. Sports such as tennis, basketball, volleyball, tumbling, speedball, softball, and archery serve to teach sportsmanship and teamwork. Miss Elorine Regner, Miss Frankie Clark, and Miss Barbara Ann Putzka strive to instill the importance of physical fitness in the minds of their students. Numerous activities are sponsored by this department that give all the girls an opportunity to participate in competitive and intramural athletics.

ORGANIZATIONS

THE BAND OF THE

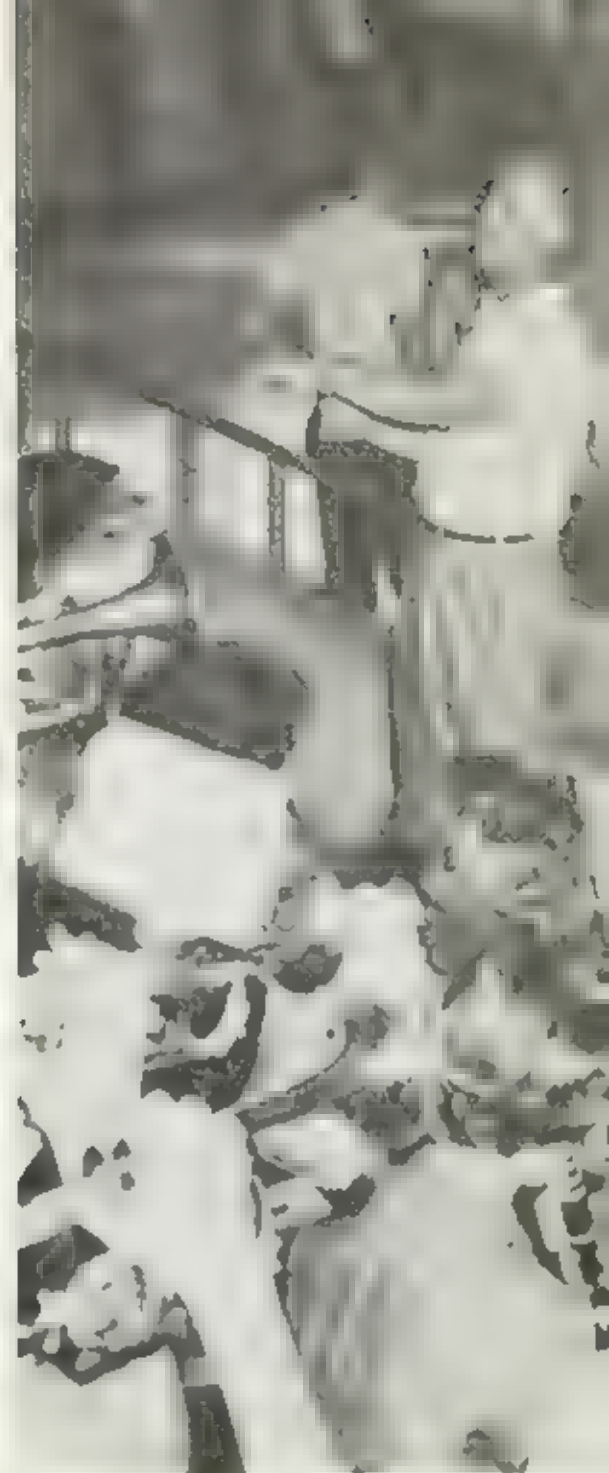

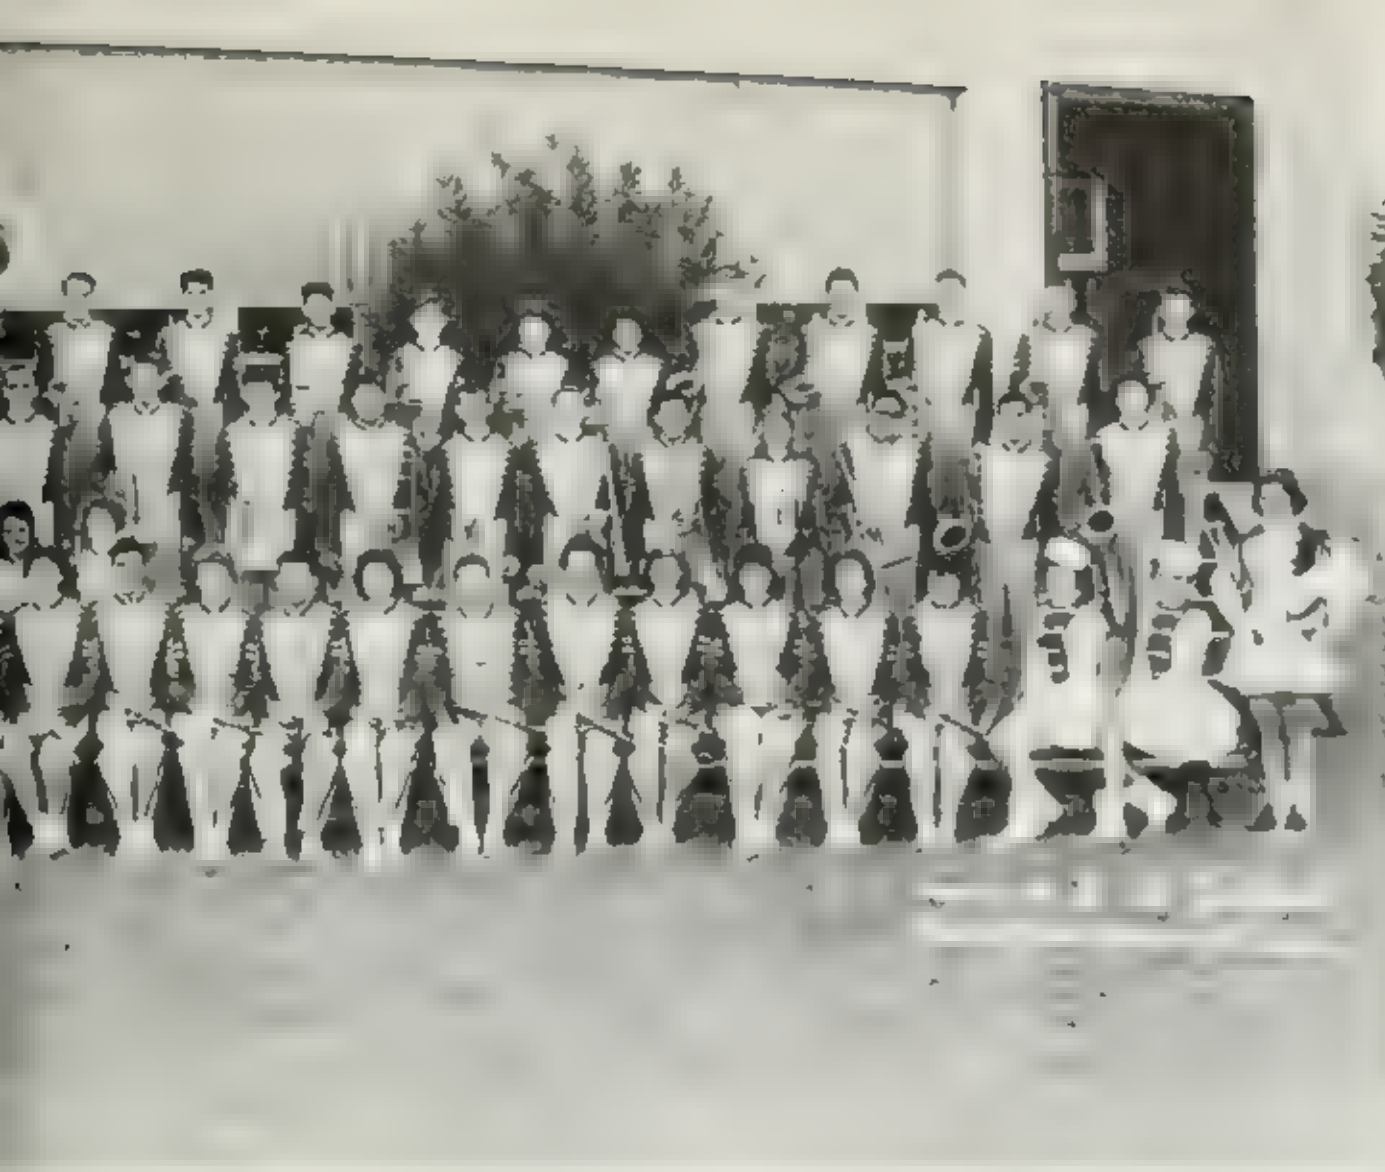

Ray has indeed been fortunate this year to engage Jim Ayres as its new band director. Qualified with twenty-two years experience, Mr. Ayres has ably led the Texan Band in the best year they have ever had in performance and spirit.

It is most unusual when a school receives so much spirit from their band. This spirit has flourished under the enthusiastic guidance of Mr. Ayres. He especially wrote a swing-pep song, "The Texan Stomp," in which both the band and student body could participate.

Setting a new record, three students made the All-State Band. Jean Crosby on clarinet, Lois Stevenson on bassoon, and Ferris Arnold on Baritone.

To raise money for their spring trip and the various contests they attended, the band had their traditional projects, the annual Christmas tree sale and the Mexican Supper.

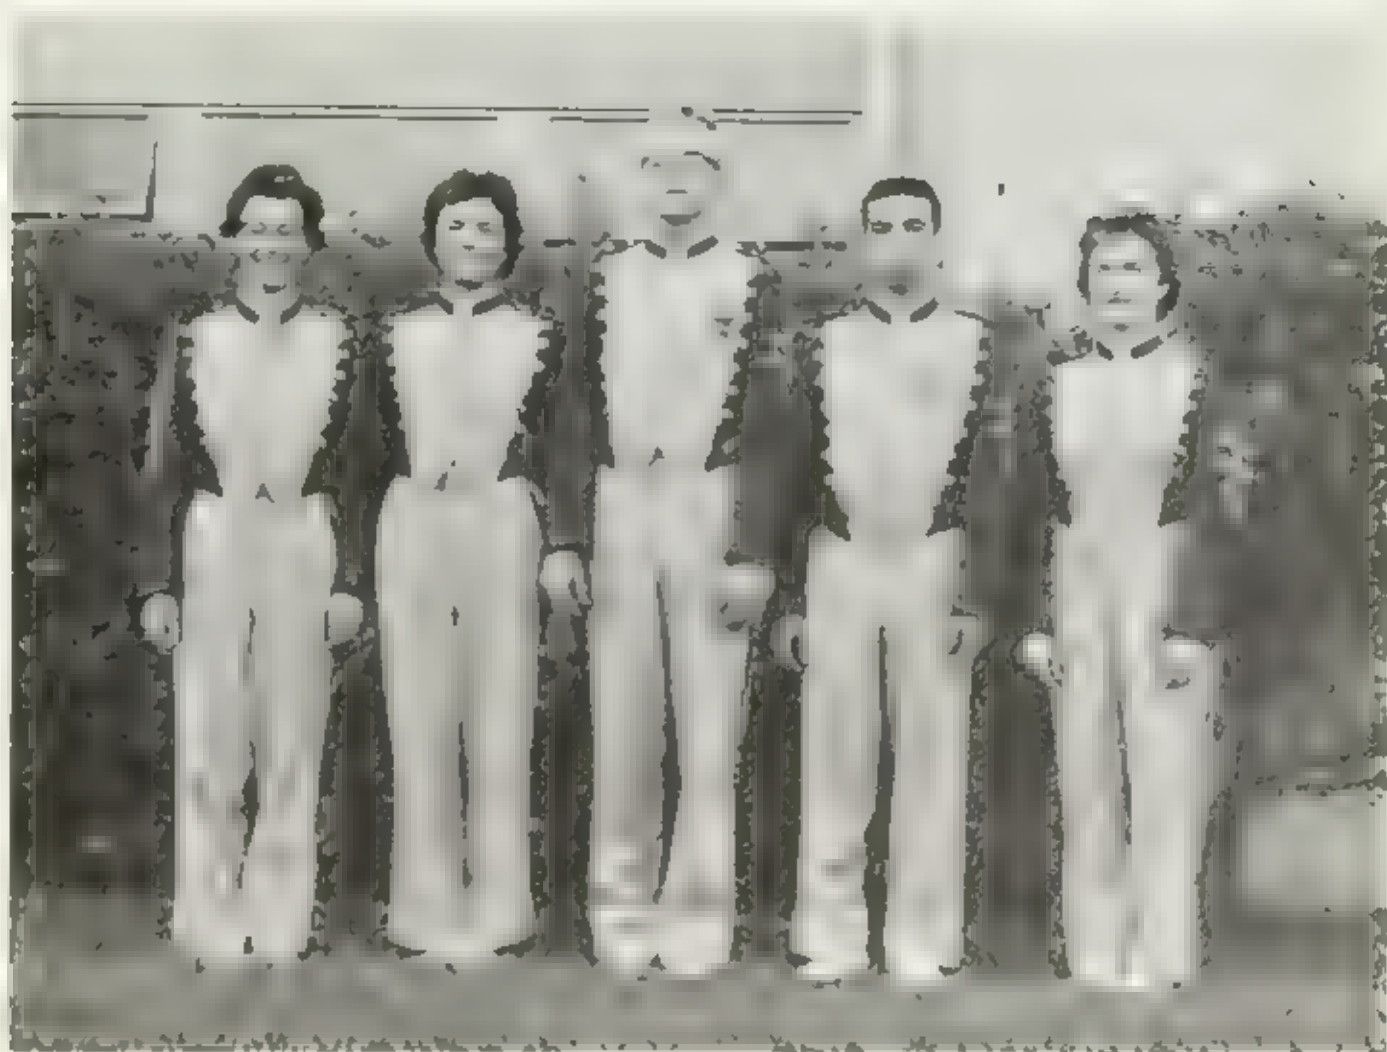

In this, the tenth year of Ray's existence, the students of Ray salute the Band of the Fighting Texans.

Ray's two choirs, the A Cappella Choir and the Singing Tex-Anns, are under the direction of Mrs. Aurelia Scogin. In constant demand, the choirs sing for service clubs, civic groups, and church organizations. Every year they participate in the Christmas sing at the Memorial Coliseum, the Buccaneer Music Festival, and the University Interscholastic League Contest, and this year, with the other high school choirs, they caroled for the hospitals. Annually the choirs hold a spring concert at Ray and also sing for graduation services.

The five members of A Cappella who made All State Choir are Vicki Hall, Linda Davis, Jorene Sanfilippo, Linda Greek and Mike Eddins. The whole A Cappella Choir sang Randall Thompson's "Testament of Freedom" in the All Regional Concert. In order to make the second of three payments on choir robes, to help finance students to All-State, transportation to contests, and the Spring Tour, A Cappella sold Trick-or-Treat candy, Mum corsages for the Ray-Miller game, and held its annual barbecue. With the Tex-Anns, A Cappella sold fruitcakes for the U.I.L. Contest.

The Student Council is the democratic and representative voice of the student body. It gives the students a chance to express their ideas and opinions in the government of the school. The Council strives to improve relations between the students and faculty, to encourage participation in school activities, and to practice good citizenship today in preparation for tomorrow.

Many activities and projects are planned and carried out by the members of the Council. Some of these activities are the Favorites' Dance, student directories, sponsoring a foreign exchange student, the Awards Assembly, the election of officers and cheerleaders, and the teachers luncheon. Projects such as the sale of candy, book covers, decals, and football programs furnish the Council with money, part of which goes to the school activities fund to help other school organizations, and the rest of which is used by the Student Council on its service projects and other activities.

This year the Southern Association of Student Councils honored both Ray High School and the Student Council by holding its annual convention here at our school on October 28-31.

Although it will be hard to top the experience and thrill of being host school to S.A.S.C., we are looking forward to our foreign exchange student as the highlight for the coming year.

Officers: Jack Friedlander, Peggy Foran, Kaki Harris, Sunny Graves, Randy Jones, Virginia Love, Gail Guion, and Tommy Miller pose for a student spot photograph.

A student council meeting is called to order by President Tommy Miller as Gail Guion records the minutes and Virginia Love waits to make a report.

Since the opening of W. B. Ray High School Miss Oneta Cummings has not only taught mathematics, but also has undertaken the mountainous task of sponsoring the Student Council. Her patience and ingenuity have been most important factors in its success each year.

Members of the committee — Pam Clitheroe, Linda Connell, Barbara Ann Coward, Mike Garrison, Carolyn Layton, and Jennifer Singer — have worked diligently to improve previous rules so that elections will be run more smoothly.

ACTIVITIES

The Awards Committee, headed by Sandy Scholze, plans the Awards Assembly which climaxes the school year. Members of this committee—Babs Burleson, Susan Osteen, Ann Trigg, Mike Harrison, Mary Louise Coffey, Jerry Smith, Robbye Hicks, and Ralph Diaz—work industriously to give full recognition to those who deserve it. This outstanding event is keenly anticipated by the students every year because of careful planning by the Student Council group.

Tommy Miller, Linda Davis, and Virginia Love greet Miss Hoge and Dr. Steiner at the mid term teachers' luncheon given by the Student Council in appreciation for our teachers' consideration and help throughout the year.

SILVER SPUR

Last minute details are checked by the editorial staff composed of Marsha Morgan, Jo Carole Williams, Glenn Blackwell, Carolyn Carter, John Maxwell, and Bill Hayes.

Much planning, hard labor, feverish staff and sponsors meeting the dreadful deadlines - from this evolved the Silver Spur of 1960

While the photographers were out madly taking pictures, the rest of the staff was industriously gathering information and setting up files; and no one could escape writing and proof reading endless copy

The nineteen staff members, under the direction of Mrs. Beth Turner, Mrs. Evelyn Bochow, and Miss Marie Cobb, have attempted to record all the honors, activities, and events important in the lives of the whole student body

Photographers John Jay Moores, Don Weil, and Jimmy Hale help Bruce Harrison and Nucky Luciano match football pictures with games.

Pushing papers to the final deadline by editorial assistants Nancy Gregg, Jo Carole Williams, Evelyn Hendricks, and Luella Barnhart

Checking receipts against money is one of the endless chores belonging to Ronnie Karchner, Mike Karchner, and Lee Montgomery

Publication of a prize-winning bi-weekly newspaper takes many hours of hard work, during and after school. Martha Sanders, Tim Griffin, George Broad, and Carolyn Van Aken, page editors, burn much midnight oil in getting El Tejano ready for the students. Ads help pay for the paper. Mary Fikes and Tammie Walker work on the advertisements in each issue.

EL TEJANO

Before editors can make up pages many stories must be gathered, written and checked. First year students in two classes, cover assigned beats, write their stories, copy read them, and turn them in, hoping that they will be selected by the editors for publication. After a student accumulates a total of 200 inches published, he gets a letter for journalism. A bar is added for each 200 additional inches.

V I V A

Editors of VIVA consider every piece of prose, both fiction and non-fiction, poetry, and illustrations submitted by Ray's student body. Many hours of midnight oil are burned before the copy is ready for that big day—make-up time. This is VIVA's fifth year. The first four issues won a First Class Rating from National Scholastic Press.

After makeup

the completed copy of the yearbook is ready for the printer. The students are now waiting for the final proof. The printer has sent back the final proof, and the students are now waiting for the final proof. The printer has sent back the final proof, and the students are now waiting for the final proof.

Quill & Scroll Society is an international honor society for High School Journalists. Ray High School has two elections per year, one in the fall and one in the spring semester. Students must qualify by being in the upper third of all classes, by doing outstanding work on some school publication, and be recommended by their sponsors. Members of the staffs of the Silver Spur, El Tejano, and VIVA are eligible for membership if they meet the requirements.

The club held a car wash, candy sale, and a sale of state championship decalcs to raise money for transportation to these tournaments. Also, the club presented programs for civic organizations. The Forensic League fulfilled its purpose, "Training Youth for Leadership," in bringing outstanding honors to our school.

It is only from past experiences that we endeavor to foretell experiences of the future. The accomplishments, the achievements, the outstanding character and history of our Junior Class bears witness to the fruitful future that we shall enjoy as a class.

The experience, the growth, the wisdom and the maturity we have acquired is now a permanent part of our natures, characters, and personalities. The foundation is firmly set, but the remaining construction of character is in the hands of the individuals who must live with it.

A memorable year at Ray has come to an end. It definitely has been one of the greatest years in the history of this high school. As we look toward the future this past year will always hold a place in our minds. The extraordinary academic, athletic, and other extra-curricular achievements of the graduating class give a glimpse of the great things yet to come. The foundation has been laid, now the construction must begin.
